

ONLINE SOCIAL NETWORKING!

Online social networks like Facebook, MySpace, and Twitter are becoming an intimate part of our personal, social, and professional lives.

Are you fascinated by this increasingly popular phenomenon?
Do you ever wonder about its evolution and purpose?
Where it's going and how it's affecting your life and the culture at large?

By participating in a University of California Berkeley research study that focuses on how people use online social spaces like Facebook or Twitter as part of their daily activities, you can help us find out more about the ever emerging occurrence of online social networking. . . .

It's short (under ten minutes), optional, completely anonymous and even better – you can answer the questionnaire online. Just click on this link below:

http://www.surveymonkey.com/s.aspx?sm=7AQO3UNbtv6t6vtvFlv3vw_3d_3d

Thank you for your participation!!!

The questionnaire and interview are anonymous and all information will be strictly confidential. The results will be used for research purposes only. A copy of the research study will be made available for your use at the Psychology/Education Library in Fall 2009.

For further information contact:
Therese Tierney
Doctoral Candidate DE: New Media
Phone: 510.541.1352

Research Study Title:
"Situated Networks: Reality and Representation of Online Social Spaces" CPHS Protocol #2008 –7–4